GARLIC & ROSES

By DAFFY DILL

Grunt . . . Groan . . . Strain . . . Gnashes of teeth and curses! Which is, you will admit, a very peculiar way to open a column. However, all this is very much in season, as that most ambitious group of lads who went on the night of November the eighth to see the sights in that green cleaning wagon will admit, if properly approached on the subject. In other words, who were the fellows who had the idea that "turnaround" is fair play and upon that assumption went out with good intentions, only to end up by pushing a decidedly inactive and very much stalled car around over the streets . . . And at such hours, too.

Wanted — one ride: Will some one please try and find Davis and Jane Hill a way to get to Nashville? After all, you can't have very much use for tickets to the Vandy-U. T. game unless you happen to be on the spot. But then possibly the busses will still be running.

Yawn . . . Yawn! And according to all the more recent of reports, our friend Ermine "Snaky" Neate is on the trail again . . . Jim "Morganfield Flash" Thomas is the lad who is playing the opposite end of the chase. S'all right . . . But please observe the game laws. We'll have no hunting out of season around here.

Some one is always taking the joy out of life. If you do not pin any faith on me, ask Charles Runyan. Seems that Polly Crume entirely disregarded that misplaced eyebrow of Runyan's when she said that he was by no means the man of the world he thought he was. And Runyan has been cultivating that thing for months, too. Our humble suggestion, Runyan, is to acquire any better known brand of black shoe polish and touch that thing up a bit, in order that happenings of this kind will not occur in the future.

This week's question and answer game: How in the world did that Jenkins boy from Madisonville (What is that guy's name any how) ever got the name "Rosie"? At least that's what we hear his stall-mate calling him.

Pisces— (True Fish) Number— 3450: Rudy Ruark, one of the hill's better known samples of the current crop of freshmen, for some obscure reason gave someone the money to mail a copy of the Weekly to his girl back home. And now we are forced to come out with a story to the effect that Rudy is being true to his one and only . . . through the mails only. Tsk . . . tsk. Names on application.

Going Hollywood: John Griffie, the West Virginia gay Lothario (Where did that word come from?) is really very easily impressed. As eye witnesses will verify, John really took to heart that remark made by that hamburger slinging man the other night. Above hamburger slinger (who must have been one of those men of reckless rhetoric) told Griffie that he should be in Hollywood doubling for Franchot Tone. Ever since this happening, Griffie has been going around with "screen-test" spots before the eyes. Should we outrage the reading public and say "tone" down . . . Quotation marks indicate pun. Excuse it please.

Sound and Fury, starring "Gin" Baldwin. Some one will please do something to ease "Gin's" pain. Last year she gave, made a present of, or donated, one ring to "Red" McCrocklin. Now she laments both long and loud the fact that the low brute has given that ring to another boy, who has in turn given it to another girl. Oh, well . . . Pass it on. Bad luck is sure to happen to

B. U. FOUR YEAR SENIORS ORGANIZE

Towers Staff Selected, Class Rings Ordered During Meeting

The four year Senior class has been rapidly organized within the last two weeks. At the first meeting of the class the following officers were elected: President, Franklin Hammock; vice president, Lawrence Parker; secretary, Eleanor Willoughby; treasurer, Louis Sarbo. Dr. Davis was selected as faculty sponsor of the class.

At the meeting last week, the class elected the officers of the staff of the 1937 Towers. Mr. Wilson Nuzum was elected editor and Mr. Gordon Pritchett was elected business manager. The appointment of of the other members of the staff was deferred to a later date.

Mr. Nuzum is from Clarksburg, W. Va., and attended the School of Business Administration of the University of West Virginia. He will receive his A. B. degree next August. Mr. Pritchett, in addition to attending the Business University, attended Western for one year. Mr. Pritchett, from Madisonville, Ky., will receive his B. S. degree in June.

The Seniors have ordered their class rings and are expecting them to arrive before the Christmas holidays.

PEARSON IS CHOSEN CORECO'S BEST LIAR

The Coreco Debating Society of the Bowling Green Business University held its regular meeting Thursday night.

The program consisted of lies and jokes.

Mr. E. O. Pearson won the liars contest by telling of his trip with Napoleon through Russia and how they lived for 30 days on frozen bird eggs. Mr. Pearson was awarded a pass to the Mississippi Social.

Mr. Clark won second place by telling of his experiences with mosquitoes that carried off horses.

MINISTER TO FINLAND WILL VISIT WESTERN

On next Wednesday, November 18, Ed Albright, United States Minister to Finland, will be the principal speaker at Western's chapel program.

Mr. Albright, a native of Gallatin, Tenn., is a talented speaker and may be expected to make a very interesting address.

Pres. H. H. Cherry

President H. H. Cherry, above, will observe his seventy-second birthday Monday, November 16. Twenty-nine of these years have been utilized in service as president of Western.

Dr. Cherry is Western's first president, and it is largely through his efforts that the college has advanced to its present standing as one of the outstanding teachers colleges of the United States.

Western, however, is not the first educational institution organized by Dr. Cherry. Three years after he graduated from college he and his brother, T. C. Cherry, organized the Business University, conducted under the firm name of Cherry Brothers until 1898.

In 1911, through Doctor Cherry's leadership, Western was transferred to its present site on College Heights.

Dr. Cherry was largely responsible for the legislative bill of 1922 which expanded the curriculum of Kentucky's teachers colleges to the full four years of college work.

President Cherry was born in Warren county, Kentucky, November 18, 1864, and obtained his early education in the public schools of Bowling Green. He graduated from the Southern Normal and Business College in 1889.

Dr. Cherry is also an active leader in public affairs.

TOPPERS TO PLAY EASTERN SATURDAY

Western to Be on Road for Rest of Season

By BYRON STUART

Coach Anderson will lead his Hilltoppers into the Eastern stronghold at Richmond this week-end for the first K. I. A. C. game of the current season. The Toppers are slated to leave tomorrow morning and will play the game Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Western's coaches, Anderson and Terry, are approaching this game with some misgivings as to the outcome. Eastern has lost only one game this season and has the strongest team to represent that institution in years.

Eastern will present one of the best passers in the state in the versatile Art Lund. This boy has completed several 70-yard passes and is also a very capable punter.

Anderson will probably present his usual line, consisting of Reed and Batsel, ends; Ellis and Croley, tackles, and Cagle or Jenkins, at the center position. His backfield combine is uncertain as he has several very capable offensive threats and obviously cannot start them all.

Several members of the squad are from Eastern Kentucky and quite a few of Anderson's boys will perform before parents, former high school coaches, etc. Among these boys are Branham, Griffin, Moore, Clark, Jenkins, Croley and others.

Western's injured men will probably see no more action than is absolutely necessary as Coaches Anderson and Terry are especially anxious to be able to present their strongest team when Murray is met down in the Purchase area on November 21.

YOUNG CATHOLIC CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Catholic Young People's Club held its first meeting of the club year Monday evening at the Knights of Columbus hall with 65 members present.

Father Raymond G. Hill.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, November 23.

WESTERN FROSH AT HOME TO MURRAY

Two Former Bowling Green High Boys to Start

By BYRON STUART

Coach Edgar Stansbury's charges, the baby Hilltoppers, will engage the Colts of Murray way down in the purchase area, Saturday, at Western stadium, while their big brothers engage the Eastern Maroons at Richmond in their first K. I. A. C. struggle of the current campaign.

The Murray outfit will enter Bowling Green preceded by reports that they are the best freshman team to represent that institution since 1931, the year before that same group won the S. I. A. A. crown and defeated Western Varsity 20-6.

By comparative scores the Hill-top outfit is eight points better Western having defeated M. T. N. frosh 14-6, while the Murray team could only toe them 6-0.

One distinct advantage which the Purchase team has, however, is experience. The Colts have participated in three games while Stansbury's boys have been so busy serving as a chopping block for their big brothers that they have found time for but one game to date.

Because of the fact that he isn't yet familiar with the ability of all his boys, Stansbury has no definite line-up. Several positions, however, are practically cinched, among them being Hornback at full, Ewan at quarter, and Perkins at center.

The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

MANHATTAN BESTS KENTUCKY IN EAST

Wild Cats Unable to Stop Fullback of New Yorkers

Manhattan came up with two ram-Manhattan came up with two rapi-er-like scoring thrusts today to win from Kentucky, 13 to 7, and send the Wildcats screaming back to the hills of the Blue Grass country.

Paced by John Byrne, a substitute fullback, the Jaspers put on a rousing second period drive to make their welcome to the Southerners, paying their first visit to the East, anything but a hospitable one. A crowd of 10,000 saw the battle at Ebbets Field.

Byrne scored both Manhattan touchdowns and missed a third by a matter of feet. His bull-like rushes ripped Kentucky's line to shreds throughout the second period scoring spree, but it braced to stop him on his third attempt, in the last quarter.

Outrushed 224 yards to 77, Kentucky got no nearer to a touchdown than the Manhattan 20-yard line, until the fourth when the big Wildcat backs finally wore down the Manhattan forwards and staged a spirited 91-yard march to score their only touchdown.

A break late in the third gave the Jaspers their third scoring opportunity, but they couldn't make it pay dividends. Bob Moser, a substitute center, leaped into the air to snag a pass from Bert Johnson and ran it 15 yards to Kentucky's 20. They sent Byrne in again and he got as far as the three yard line, but the Wildcat line suddenly stiffened and stopped him cold a few feet from home, after two plays had been reeled off in the fourth.

Ed Sands, the Wildcat fullback, Johnson and Bob Davis, tore down the field from their own nine-yard marker in the fourth to save Kentucky from a shutout. A 27-yard gallop by Johnson and a 15 yard pass from Johnson to Davis were the highlights. Johnson dove thru center, from the five-yard line for the score. Brother Dameron Davis replaced Bob and kicked the point.

Carolina Men Have Jobs

Over half of the men in the University of South Carolina have jobs. Some teach classes in the State Penitentiary; two read to blind people; about 35 are employed by the State Highway Department; several are night-watchmen in 'aundries; one drives a taxi.

AMELIA EARHART TALKS TO ANNAPOLIS SENIORS

She was the first woman ever to address a graduating class at the academy in the series of lectures included in the courses in English and history. Mrs. Putnam lectured in Van Meter Hall last spring.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE... SMOKE CAMELS

Camels increase digestive activity—encourage a sense of well-being!

WITH healthy nerves and good digestion, you feel on top of the world. When you smoke Camels with your meals and after, Camels help in two special ways: Tension is lessened and Camels promote digestive well-being.

So enjoy your Camels between courses and after eating. Strain eases.

The flow of digestive fluids, so vital to proper nutrition, is speeded up. Alkalinity is increased. You get more good from what you eat.

For an invigorating "lift"—for matchless taste—and "for digestion's sake"—the answer is the same: Camels. Camels set you right! And they don't get on your nerves.

CONCENTRATION calls for mental stamina—taxes digestion too. That's where Camels help! "For digestion's sake... smoke Camels" during meals and afterward. And when you are tired—you get a refreshing "lift" with Camels. Camels set you right.

ALL-AROUND ATHLETE FROM TEXAS. Miss Mary Carter says: "Since I've learned how pleasant Camels make my mealtime, I wouldn't be without them. Camels are mild—never get on my nerves."

CHAMPION BOWLER. Johnny Murphy says: "Smoking Camels at meals and after works out swell in my case. Camels help my digestion. After a meal and Camels, I settle back and really enjoy life."

AFTER THE GREATEST FINISH UNDER FIRE IN GOLFING HISTORY: Tony Manero gets set for eating by smoking Camels. The gallery went wild when Tony Manero scored a spectacular 282—4 strokes under the record—to win the 1936 National Open Golf Tournament. In spite of the long grind, Tony's digestion stands the strain. Tony himself says: "For digestion's sake—smoke Camels!" hits the ball on the nose. I enjoy my food more—have a feeling of ease—when I enjoy Camels with my meals. Camels set me right."

MURRAY WINS FIRST IN LAST FOUR STARTS

The Thoroughbreds of Murray State Teachers opened up a second half attack today against West Tennessee Teachers' that wiped out a six-point deficit and gave them a 20 to 6 victory.

The result placed the Kentuckians back in the win column after three losses and gave the Tennesseans their seventh straight defeat.

The Tutors drew first blood in the initial period when Skippy McFarland intercepted Gardner's pass and ran 15 yards for a touchdown. They battled desperately to hold the slim lead in the second quarter.

Then the Murray machine started rambling.

the one who breaks the chain.

Citrus fruit crop must be coming very well down in Florida. At least, Freshman Grigg should think so, for he was the recipient of a whole crate of oranges from down in those parts not long ago. Cause for celebration?

Clipped from Morehead Trail Blazer—Coldiron has taken a back seat along with Kayo and Bonnie steps forth into the eye: of a new admirer—Who is he, Bonnie, or are you just being true to Tolliver?

In case you don't remember—the Coldiron mentioned is none other than the Bill Coldiron who was at Western last year and who is to return here next semester—unless rumor is playing us false again.

One of the things we like about this younger generation is the tendency of some of it to cut out this late hour business. Fine example of this would be the lad who decided to go home and turn in at ten o'clock the other night. Shame Link, Radcliffe, et al couldn't see the good points attached to this procedure. . . They returned to continue the celebration.

Whats to the rumor that "Baldy" Griffin is now using hair grower on his head, as well as his chest? Who said that stuff would grow hair on a billiard ball, Chas.? Methinks you have been robbed.

More of this night school business. According to Stooze 7-9, Jane Fortenberry is now not only going to school during the day, but is also very busy teaching night school.

PSYCHOLOGY PROF TRIES OUT DEATH

Cambridge Professor Tells
Yale Students of Frigid
Adventure

Sir Joseph Bancroft, Cambridge university physiologist, wanted some idea of how it would feel to freeze to death, so he basked in the cold.

Describing his frigid adventure to Yale university students, Sir Joseph explained that nature dictates the body should remain approximately constant at 98.4 degrees Fahrenheit, and much change caused by long exposure to cold has ill effects.

"In each of the two experiments which I performed there was a moment when my whole mental outlook altered," Sir Joseph said. "As I lay naked in the cold room I was shivering and my legs were flexed in a sort of effort to huddle up, and I was very conscious of the cold."

"Then a moment came when I stretched out my legs; the sense of coldness passed away, and it was succeeded by a beautiful feeling of warmth; the word 'bask' most fitly describes my condition. I was basking in the cold. What had taken place, I suppose, was that my central nervous system had given up the fight, that the vasoconstriction had passed from my skin, and that blood returning thither gave that sensation of warmth which one experiences when one goes out of a cold storage room into the ordinary room."

Sir Joseph declared that nature apparently fought the cold up to the point when he experienced the "beautiful feeling of warmth," and then it gave in. He also described his change in mental attitude:

"The natural apprehension lest some person alien to the experiment should enter the room and find me quite unclad disappeared—just as flexion was changed to extension in the muscles; so the natural modesty was changed to—well, I don't know what."

A drama tingling with excitement and suspense, is Zane Grey's "Desert Gold." The stirring tale of a white man's treachery in his effort to obtain the last of an Indian tribe's wealth, is the basis for one of the most moving tales of the Old West.

"Desert Gold" deals with a young Indian chieftain, abducted and horribly tortured by a villainous mine promoter and saved from death by a young mining engineer. This rescue results in a lasting friendship between the young men which proves of great value later when the engineer and his sweetheart are in danger. Attacked by desert badmen, a terrific battle ensues between them with the Indians riding to the rescue. The young couple are themselves saved from death. The climax of the story makes a thrilling, fiery, romance.

WESTERN VICTIM IS VICTIMIZED BY EAGLES

Scoring in the second and fourth quarters—the Morehead College Eagles won their third straight game here this afternoon defeating Polytechnic Institute of Cookeville, Tenn., 14-0. The outweighed Morehead team took advantage of every break. About 2,500 saw the game.

Late in the first period, Morehead drove from its own forty to Poly's twelve where Wyant shot a fourth down pass to Hammonds in the end zone for the first score and Jarrell Vinson kicked the extra point. A penalty for holding on defense gave Poly the ball on Morehead's six late in the first quarter but the visitors were to gain but three yards in the four attempts.

Late in the fourth quarter, Wyant intercepted Birdsong's pass on Poly's thirty-three and with good interference ran for a touchdown. Vinson kicked the extra point.

Major Schmidt Talks At Armistice Chapel

Major Herbert W. Schmidt of the faculty at Western Teachers College delivered an Armistice Day address at chapel exercises Wednesday morning on the subject, "Thoughts Suggested by Armistice Day."

"The principal thing America has gained from the World War," the speaker said, "is the adoption of a military policy under which the country is prepared in time of peace for a major emergency."

Devotional was given by H. V. McChesney, and the speaker was introduced by Colonel John Roberson. The program was concluded with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

F. D. R. QUIZZES ENGINEER'S PREP

Future Mechanism Design- ers to Absorb Scien- tific Shock

Declaring that engineers must solve such problems as unemployment, President Roosevelt recently raised the question whether the training given to engineering students is broad enough.

The White House announced he had written to heads of 100 schools and colleges throughout the country, asking the educators to determine whether courses at engineering schools are so "balanced" as to give students the necessary "vision and flexible technical capacity."

The "impact" of science on human life produces social dislocations as well as advances in productive power, he held. He mentioned "unemployment, bankruptcies and relief." The engineer, he said, has a responsibility to help design "mechanisms to absorb the shocks of the impact of science."

The chief executive also sent to the educators a recent government report, dealing with control of head-water streams. Its conclusion was that no effective policy concerning navigation, flood control, power and land use could be established until streams could be controlled and used at their source.

WILSON SPEAKS AT ALVATON WEDNESDAY

Dr. Gordon Wilson, of the English department at Western Teachers College, spoke on the subject, "Education and World Peace," at a program at the Alvaton School Wednesday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Wednesday was designated as Parents Day at the school, and all patrons were urged to attend the program and inspect the recently constructed modern school building.

This seems to be a case of second fiddle—somewhere. Question, who is lucky to be in the band at all? Caroline Johnson had good intentions of taking Paul Smith to the dorm dance. Then to her surprise, she found that Jean Moberly had already stolen a march and Smith at the same time. Such bad luck couldn't hold up forever, though. She made the dance with Jed Walters.

Who are the group of young men who found themselves in a very embarrassing predicament the other night because of shortage of cash to pay a bill of about three dollars at one of the "dine 'n dance" joints? We understand that "Tumps" Noel was the hero of the occasion.

If you find this column a bit hard to read, I'm sorry. For the past three or four paragraphs my attention has been divided between the typewriter and watching that crazy dog that belongs to the house here. He takes great joy in trying to bite the end off his own tail.

Some of our men about town here can't seem to believe that gambling is wicked. . . . Better that they go to church on Sunday rather than try to beat the laws of averages. Of course, I always do the former. . . . I'm a lousy poker player anyway.

Someone should do something about the cases of "Chocolate" Blankenship, "Sleepy" Fowler, and others. They did entirely too much running around Saturday night. And they might manage to stay off of 13th street.

Betty Davis seems to be having quite a bit of trouble with that roommate of her's. For more complete details, see "Free Wheelin" Vincent. Which reminds. . . . It was my impression that Betty was making the rounds with Eddie Rassinier, the letter writing freshman cheer leader.

Together: Ray Smith and Harriet Stickles. . . . Link and Logan. . . . Fortenberry and Snead. . . . So what?

And here is a gentleman who wishes to register a kick. Steve, over at one of the student inns wishes that all customers would please wash their hands. The glue on them has been sticking to all the ashtrays. . . . At least that is the supposition. . . . The ashtrays are not present. . . . Chances are that this is a common complaint in all the places. I would like to have one of those new ones that were out a week or two ago.

Russell Miller—We will not say where you were on Sunday night. The same applies to "Sleepy" Fowler, "Red" Trigg, and anyone else who might have been in that party.

Wonder what would happen. . . .

If . . . Fred Smith would find out that he is married. . . . You could walk through any of the inns without being bummed for a smoke at least three times. . . . When you are trying to do the same thing. . . . All teachers let out their classes on time. . . . Bill Martin should be arrested for blocking traffic. . . . Charlie Stahl should finally settle down. . . . I should ever get this column written!

B. U. Teacher Tells of Good Handwriting Value

By V. J. GILLESPIE

Good handwriting is that which embodies three essentials. Those essentials are, legibility, ease and speed. No writing is good which cannot be read, or can be read only with great difficulty. Legibility is the all-important essential. Even though writing may be perfectly legible, it may be practically valueless from a commercial viewpoint because of being too slowly and too uneasily executed to meet the demands of modern business. Good handwriting also has another quality that is important. It must be uniform in slant, spacing, proportion, and quality of line.

Value is that which makes a thing useful or desirable. What makes good handwriting useful and desirable? First, it is a prerequisite to employment in many kinds of clerical and office work. In many other cases, while it is not exactly a prerequisite, it is a vital factor in securing favorable consideration for the applicant. In the second place, it increases the earning power, other things being equal, of the person who has acquired such proficiency. It is often the deciding factor in making promotions. In the third place entirely aside from the economic value of good penmanship, it has a distinct social value. Writing is not only a necessity in business; it is quite as much a necessity to society outside of business relationships as it is in business.

Now if every one wrote equally well with sufficient skill to meet all the demands of business, penmanship would cease to be a factor in securing employment and promotions because one person's writing would be as good as another's and the question of which person to employ would be decided upon the basis of other qualifications and qualities that were not possessed by all in the same quality of degree. But every one knows that such a condition does not exist as set forth in the above assumption. There is extreme inequality in handwriting. Many are those that write a painful slow and partially legible hand. Few are those who can write a really good hand that satisfies the requirements for modern business purposes. It is the difference between the demand and the supply—this excess of the demand for good penmen over the supply of good penmen—that gives good penmanship its monetary value and its present important place in business.

Many applications are not even read because the deplorable penmanship of the applicants immediately eliminates them from any further consideration. On the other hand, good penmanship commands and gets attention. The employer can see at a glance that the applicant has at least one necessary qualification and is willing to look further to see what other qualifications he may possess. And so the good penman is much more likely to get favorable consideration, other things being equal, than he who does not write so well. Students who are graduated from schools and school systems in which the proper value is placed on good handwriting are to be congratulated upon the superiority of their penmanship and upon the extra advantage they have over their competitors who have had no such training in penmanship.

DAVIS STILL TOPS IN SOUTHWESTERN

Kentucky Star Retains Lead Despite Failure to Score

Bob Davis total as individual scoring leader in the Southeastern Conference remained unchanged for the third straight week, but his 66 points left him with a comfortable margin over an otherwise closely-bunched field.

All chief threats to the Kentucky halfback increased their totals Saturday, but none added more than a touchdown. Joe Kilgrow, Alabama halfback in second place, booted four extra points in his team's 34-7 victory over Tulane, but left him 24 points behind Bob Davis.

Bill Mattis of Tulane, scored his fourth touchdown in two weeks to remain in a tie with Georgia Tech's Dutch Konemann for third position. Five other gridmen just back of the two leaders also scored a touchdown each.

The leaders, including all with 24 points or more:

MED SCHOOLS TO EMPLOY PICTURES

Revolutionary Changes in Technique Are Seen for Future

Soon many medical schools will discard the present system of demonstrating surgical operations for a more colorful one.

In the laboratory classes, it is difficult for students far removed from the operating table to see the actual work from the viewpoint of the surgeon. Hereafter color motion pictures will be employed in some schools to show technique of the surgeon.

How can the process be filmed? Simple, Dr. R. Plato Schwartz, of the University of Rochester, explains that the photographer, by using color film sensitized to artificial light and by using a telephoto lens, can now take pictures over the surgeon's shoulders — pictures that will reproduce the operation in true color and, also essential, in the right size and perspective.

Dr. Schwartz anticipates universal use of this novel teaching method within a short time. One of the advantages he points out is that unusual surgical cases can be protected many times for instructing, lecture purposes, and case histories.

TWO ROTC BOYS PLAN ON RANDOLPH FIELD

Two members of Western's R. O. T. C. unit, Sidney Carpenter of Bowling Green and George Morris of Louisville, are planning to go to Randolph Field, San Antonio, Texas, in March, in the event they successfully pass the rigid physical examinations which they must take in December.

Carpenter and Morris have previously satisfied all other requirements for entrance.

Ah! At last I have gathered the fruits of my labor, Success, Sweet Success—I have attained thee.

Dear, gentle readers, please pardon the poetic outburst, but I have received three tokens of success as a columnist. First, Lucyle Green has written an exceedingly blasphemist poem about me. Second, I received some dirt by mail. Third, I have been threatened—Belcher letting it be known that he will decapitate me by knocking my block off the next time I call him a sissy in this column.

Are you as tired of reading about Joe and Deanie as I am of writing about them? What in the devil am I to do though if they persist in making the choicest news of the week—I can't very well ignore such goings-on as these:

Joe and Deanie run their affair along harmoniously to the tune of "A Fine Romance". They were sitting in a booth in the 12th St. joint when someone put a slug in and played that piece. When the tenor reached the lines "with no kisse," Deanie looked at Joe with such an appealing look that Joe—well, er—ah—well, darn it, Joe is flesh and blood after all and he acted as though he were flesh and blood and not of iron or steel. This wasn't only going on in the booth but also on the dance floor and a few nights later in a booth in a joint on the Louisville road.

Flash! What "Blond Romeo," whose pet hobby is climbing back stairways, got in the wrong pew at 12:30 last Friday night?

"Red" Todd and Jane Kopel are together so much these days that for that and sundry other reasons they have been dubbed "the Siamese twins." No wonder George Ellis can't get regular dates with Jane!

"Red" wanted to go to the football game last Saturday. Julia Condon had a season ticket and decided not to go. With a little ingenuity and a fountain pen, "Red" became Mr. Julian Condon and as such went to the game. What, no rain checks?

Don't tell me that one is not affected by the company they keep. Julia has been stepping with Gus Meredith so much that the other day in English she absent-mindedly signed her name as Mrs. Meredith.

In answer to the query of Daffy-Dill last week regarding the sudden inclination of Tommy Mathis to participate at dances, Tommy is taking dancing lessons on the sly. His able instructor is none other

BIG FOURS TO BE GUESTS OF HAAS

Sponsor's Wife to Meet B. U. Club Members Tomorrow Night

By CAROLYN KAHN

The Big Four's have started off with a bang! They have formed their organization, had a "swell" program, and planned a party—some party. But I'll save that till last.

First, the organization. One of the prize speakers of last year—you can see I'm not prejudiced when I phrase him so slightly as "one"—was elected president, Mr. Joe Wilson. Miss Neal Coggin was elected vice president, an office carrying with it automatically that of chairman of the program committee. Other officers elected were: Secretary and treasurer, Mr. Alvin D. Clause; Sergeant at Arms, Mr. Gordon Pritchard; reporter, Miss Carolyn Kahn. The program committee appointed by Miss Coggin is comprised of Mr. Glenn Bishop and Mr. Barrier.

Next, the program. Those of you who didn't hear it missed something. Mr. Smith, from Missouri, sang several popular songs. Mr. Gordon Pritchett entertained with his rather "famous" card tricks. And a most animated debate was held on the solemn subject, Resolved: That the dish rag is more useful in the kitchen than the mop. In case you didn't know, the dish rag is more useful—as decided by the illustrious Big Four's, themselves.

Have I saved the best for last? I have. Dr. Haas, our sponsor, is so proud of his proteges that he wants his wife to meet them all personally. Consequently, he has invited all members, no outcasts, to a party to be given at his home, commencing at 7:30 Friday night. Do you want to know if you can come? Well, I'll tell you. Read over the following list of courses, and if you are taking one of these, you are a Big Four member! Be sure and come to our next Big Four meeting! Tonight! You'll find it fun.

BOOKS CONTRIBUTED TO WESTERN LIBRARY

Mr. Duncan, who served as a captain in the United States Army during the World War, has contributed to the library a collection of books relating to the army and army regulations.

"Thru The Keyhole"

By PEEPIN'

Congratulations, Purples, on your victory over St. Augustine!! May you make it three in a row by trimming Owensboro Friday.

The time for the football banquet is drawing near. Cuddle close my children and you shall hear—

Kemp "Rip" Cullen is taking Gwendolyn Raymer.

"Doc" Francis is escorting "Teeny" Cole.

"Bluebeard" will take "The Florida Cracker."

Wendall Allen will be in the presence of Betty Welch.

"Izzy" Clark is asking Regina Davis.

"Blutch" Richeson will probably take Nathalyn Tabor.

Thanks to "Bluebeard," "Katy" Smith is taking Mary A. Webb.

Martine Hartig has already made a catch but we can't reveal the identity of her hero.

Seems as if L. P., Sr., and Peepin' are the only ones that don't have dates.

Aubrey Mae Mitchell was seen in Western Frosh

The above gentleman is Avory Ewan, former Bowling Green High star, who will probably be Coach Stansbury's choice at quarterback for the baby Hilltoppers Saturday when they engage the Murray Colts. Ewan was on the West Kentucky Conference all-star eleven in 1935.

the company of a Western freshman the other night. Pretty good for a freshman in High School, I'd say. Eh, what?

James "Minnehaha" Skinner rated the company of Julia Singleton Saturday night. Good work, "Chuckles," keep going!!

"Bluebeard" seems to be a chaperone for Alice Hodges. Everywhere Alice goes, so goes "Bluebeard."

Regina Murphy would like to go nautical and have a date with Paul Jones.

You should read the note that was intercepted from James Brite to Louise Mitchell.

Who is the guy that is bribing Stooze 2 5-8 to keep his mouth shut. Bailey might get mad if I told.

Harry Richards has decided to take Betsy Gaines to College High's football banquet. Nice going, Betsy!!

"Izzy" asked Laura Barton "Pee Wee" Dent for a date but received the answer, "Nobody less than a high school senior or a college freshman could rate a date with me." Seems as though there's a junior girl in the same crowd that thinks the same—Tch! Tch!

"Sooky" Myers and her efficient boy friend tried several times the other night to run over a couple of innocent bystanders. The boy failed but returned to the scene of their crime to throw forth some "words" at the two boys who had tried to protect themselves. "Sooky" and company should have a medal for bravery.

Bill Brock was seen Monday afternoon walking "hand in hand" with Mildred Gregory up to the football field. You're making rapid progress, Bill.

Sue Lawson seems to have forgotten how valuable "Cole" can be during the winter months! What's the matter, J. S.?

Bet you can't guess what Regina Davis has promised "Izzy" if he makes a touchdown Friday. I'll give you three guesses and take two of them away.

All the "old grads" will be back this afternoon. Let's give them a warm reception at the Homecoming Chapel!!

Frank McQuown and "Dot" Perkins picked a rather public place to to their "carrying on" the other night!

"Chic" Cheaney had a full weekend last week. "Teeny" Cole on Friday and Sunday and Alice Hodges on Saturday make a good combination, don't they?

The reason Robeline Corder won't let the boys ride home is because she thinks Benny Howell might see her!!

Do you remember—
When Bowling Green Hi had no night football games?
When the band had no uniforms and did no marching at the games?

When "Snowell" called Helen Elrod "Baby"?

The day when "Texas" first arrived at B. G. H. S.?

The way "Duck" Barnes was "hit" in this column last year?

When "Rabbit" Francis and Anne McFarland were all the rage of the freshman class?

When C. A. Porter made 15 of the second teams 18 points at Woodburn last year?

The gang of "Bose" Williams, "Red" Todd, Stanley Talley and Julian Davis???

WESTERN OUTPLAYS HOWARD BUT LOSES

Batsel, Baker, Thomas and Five Seniors Shine

By BYRON STUART

Western's fighting Toppers, the "hard luck" boys, outplayed the Howard Bulldogs completely after the first eight minutes in the game in Western's stadium Saturday, which ended 14-6 in favor of Howard. Two touchdowns in about three minutes, however, were enough to turn the trick for the Alabama boys.

Coach Anderson made some timely substitutions after the Howard scores and for the remaining three and a half quarters, the charges of Anderson and Terry did everything but wipe up the field with their opponents, scoring 15 first downs while holding their highly touted opponents to two.

Every man who played for Western performed in a favorable manner. The five seniors, however, stayed in an unusually good manner, probably due to the fact that their classmate, Willard Peebles, who sat on the side-lines because of an injury, begged them to come through.

"C" Griffin played good defensive ball-as usual-and big Max Reed played his first really good defensive game this season. Max, a pass snatcher of ability, can, when inclined, persuade the opposing quarterback to quit running plays even in his general direction.

Probably the best line play for Western was demonstrated by J. C. Batsel. His actions are well described by Bob Blue, Nashville Banner sports writer in his Top Ten of the week.

"It was no fault of this former Central City, Ky. star's that Western Kentucky lost to Howard Saturday. Recently transferred from a guard position, Batsel gave one of the best exhibitions of defensive football seen here in many years. On three consecutive plays, he broke into the Howard backfield and threw ball carriers for losses totalling 35 yards, and he pulled tricks of that sort all afternoon. He was down the field first on punts, caught a number of passes for gains and broke up several Howard passes."

Eck Branham called signals for the Andersonites in the absence of Peebles while all the backs turned in creditable performances. The three backfield men who outshone the others, however, had seen very little action previous to the Howard game. Thomas, Baker and Gill showed unexpected ability and are almost sure to see much service during the remaining games.

Coach Anderson's frequent substitution policy proved exceedingly popular with the fans and student body.

than Maud Edith "Red" Huey.

Everybody keep quiet about this affair between Paul Tull and Ellen Davies. At this very moment, Paul's girl from back home is visiting him. She arrived yesterday and is remaining until Saturday so use the soft pedal.

Of course, a little slip of the tongue might not get Paul into serious difficulty but keep the details of the wrist watch a secret. Don't let the visiting girl friend know that whenever they are together in the parlor they remove Ellen's wrist watch to keep from breaking it.

As Tull intends to have her dine at the same boarding house at which both he and Ellen board, it has quietly agreed between them that Ellen is to eat on the back porch or out in the back yard for the few days that she will be here.

Frank Kline confessed that the reason that he is no longer seen in the company of Earline Moffat is that he did not use tact and decorum. Slow down, Frank, slow down.

Though LeRoy Smith footed the bill at that Mississippi Club outing the other night, he didn't spend much time with Frances Martin. When he returned from his wanderings, she was found with Jake Daniels. Daniels thought that he was going to take Frances home but something went wrong and she did the unusual thing—stayed with her date.

Billy Ford had two dates made with Michael for this coming weekend. Billy then decided that he would like to make the week-end complete and asked for the third date. It was agreed to settle the matter by matching coins. Should Billy win the toss he was to have three dates—otherwise only one. Michael lost so now Billy has three dates with her for this week-end. Kinda leaves "Lawd" Godbaugh out in the cold, doesn't it?

Rodney King and Edith Roberts are having a queer affair of the heart. You never see them together except at football games—however, they make everyone of the games. Wonder what they are going to do now that the season is almost over?

I told you so, I told you so. Success is within my grasp. Even while I sat here in a booth at the 12th street forum, someone else slipped up behind me and shoved the following into my eager mitts:

"Fresh meat for the scandal mongers, Mr. Ernest 'Joe' Lewis seems to have suddenly taken an interest in his landlady's daughter. Is it the real McCoy or is he hoping that the attentions he bestows upon the fair maiden will induce her mother to give him a reduction in his board bill? We can't pass any opinions as yet for as far as anyone knows the interest is fairly mutual and it has been rumored that it is all due to those big brown eyes of his. This may develop in something interesting before long for he is already calling the father of the damsel "Pop" and this has been running only a week or two.

Here is something we all have been waiting for with eager anticipation. Some information on the famous Pickel House Girls, (known to some of us as the "yellow stucco"), but to continue—there seems to be quite a lot going on over there that no one finds out about, but, the best of the years crop is in regard to Aileen Brewer going to sleep the last five times she has had a date with Frank Sullivan. What's the matter Frank, losing your grip, or is Aileen taking this opportunity to dream of someone else. She has been known to smile at another boy a time or two and this same boy has been known to make a public statement of the fact that he thought that she was one mighty sweet girl. Maybe we will have a good old fashioned feud to liven things up a bit or maybe a duel or two. One can never tell, can one? (Two can though.)

And that, my friends, is a very nice bit of stooping and goes a long way in making up the column.

UNDER-WATER VACUUM CLEANER

Unique Invention Used for Cleaning University
Swimming Pool

An under-water vacuum cleaner! That is the device that has been employed at Louisiana State university for washing out the swimming pool while it is full of water.

A man dons a diving helmet and goes to the bottom to "vacuum up" the trash that gathers. The same water can be used for several weeks at a time. But the water is not motionless; it is going in and out of the pool at the rate of 750 gallons a minute and passing through a purifier. A solution of copper sulphate keeps algae from forming.

"Since the inauguration of the new system," Mr. W. G. "Hicky" Higginbotham states, "the bacteria count has been kept below 50. The average pool has a count of between from 500 to 900."

Higginbotham declares that the water is better than most drinking water; he has drunk it himself to prove his convictions and offers any one else who doesn't believe a glass.

"MAN-BITE-DOG" GAG GIVEN NEW VERSION

You've heard it a hundred times if not more, but here it is again in its new fall-model guise: "Boy Bites Beast!"

It all happened near the state training school of Red Wing, Minnesota—this dramatization of the Methuselahic "man-bite-dog" gag.

Ray Billy gave rookie journalism instructors the latest version when he tried to capture a liberty-loving weasel. As all good weasels will do in similar circumstances, this one wrapped its mouth around Billy's right hand. When the "fur-fang" showed mule tendencies, refusing to be pried loose, Billy bit him hard with his strong teeth until the animal passed out.

Journalism doffs its hat to you, sir!

(Millsaps Purple and White)

Even though our Hilltoppers didn't win according to scores in the Howard game they certainly scored a moral victory against the highly touted Bulldogs.

The Andersonites made more first downs against the Alabama outfit than any team they have faced this year, including Frank Thomas' outfit.

This week's predictions:

Western vs. Eastern — Western. (Five seniors, Ellis, Griffin, Reed, Criley and Branham played in their last home game against Howard. Peebles, regular quarterback, was unable to play.)

Kentucky vs. Clemson—Kentucky. (Hear that "C" Griffin has been dubbed "Baldy." His teammates maintain that he is now using "hair-grower" on his head as well as chest!)

Centre vs. Davidson — Davidson. (Rumor hath it that the sudden reappearance of interest for "Ada" of West Virginia by "Snake" Hendrix is the fact that recently received fifty bucks from home! No gigilo?)

Georgetown vs. Union — Georgetown. ("Snaky" Neate is right on the trail of Jim "Morganfield Flash" Thomas these days.)

Murray vs. T. P. I.—Murray. (Another one of these Floridan's, Grigg who is a freshman, was celebrating last week-end. Just what, nobody knows, but he was passing out oranges just received from his native state.)

Louisville vs. Morehead — Morehead. (Wonder just how comes that "Trainer" Crowder is being dunned by Freeman Carothers for eighty cents?)

Transy vs. Open. (Those Hilltoppers reminded me of their ac-

Tampa 0, La. Tech. 6.

This week out-of-state opponents play:

Howard vs. Open Date.
Xavier vs. Detroit.
T. P. I. vs. Murray.
Tampa vs. Cumberland U.
West Liberty vs. Concord
Oglethorpe vs. Mississippi College.
M. T. N. vs. ?

Western Frosh play Murray's little Thoroughbreds in the stadium Saturday. Western defeated M. T. N. Freshmen 14-6, while Murray tied them. There is as much competition between the Western and Murray Frosh as between the varsity elevens. Let's all go!

These Eastern players have thrown a scare into Western for the past two years. In 1934 Western was undefeated and unscored on and the Maroons led at the half 9-0. This year they have lost one while winning 6. Their record follows:

Eastern 7, Franklin 0.
Eastern 9, Louisville 6.
Eastern 6, Georgetown 2.
Eastern 7, Morehead 19.
Eastern 13, Transy 6.

Tampa lost her first game and was scored on for the first time this year when Louisiana Tech, beaten 22-13 by Tulane managed to eke out a 6-0 victory over the Floridians last week-end.

Every Western fan has a favorite football player. Coach Anderson's policy of free substitution, seen in the Howard game, proved very popular from the spectator's point of view.

J. C. Batsel looked "All-American-ish" at that flank post on last Saturday. His toughness was well demonstrated by the fact that Howard decided to direct her plays toward the other side of the line.

Big Max Reed played his first good defensive ball this season against the Bulldogs. Keep it up, Max, and you'll probably rate the K. I. A. C. eleven again.

"C" Griffin, as usual, refused to let Howard put anything over on him. "Baldy" weighs only 160 pounds but has been a regular guard three years now.

Jim Thomas is the only Western back this season who has shown any inclination to follow his interference. After all, what is the advance guard for?

"Blondy" Baker and Joe Gili proved that they're ready for action. Gili played a large part of the game and scored the touchdown while a 20-yard run by Baker made this score possible.

Archie Moore, who has had a bad leg will be in shape for the Eastern game.

Without taking any credit from the Howard back, he would never have passed the line of scrimmage if the Western line hadn't muffed its defensive shift.

See by the "Babbler" that David Lipscomb of Nashville is dickering for a game with Ed Diddle's K. I. A. C. championship basketball squad.

Millsaps has started basketball practice and has back several vets from their 1935 squad. Western will probably hear from them in the S. I. A. A. tourney at Jackson.

Murray, once more winning, is patiently waiting for our Hilltoppers to invade the purchase on Nov. 21 when they plan to even up the series at three all.

We shall see what we shall see!

WESTERN PIONEER CABIN PROGRESSES

Log Cabin Back of Kentucky Building Sponsored by C. H. Foundation

Within the shadow of the Kentucky Building adjacent to the beautiful formal Colonial Garden and in a plot enclosed by a split rail fence there is under erection a two-room log cabin constructed from poplar logs cut from the hills near President Cherry's old home. Roofed by white oak boards it will present a perfect picture of the typical home of the early settlers. Here will be gathered and reinstated the simple but substantial furnishings of the pioneer people. The great open fire-place with its andirons, pot, crane and baking stone, the long rifle and powder-horn hanging above, the spindle and loom in the corner, the home-made cherry bedstead and table, the ash-hopper beneath the eave of the roof, will serve to recall to the student or interested visitor a day that is gone but should never be forgotten.

The log house erected by the Pioneer in the clearing of Kentucky and Tennessee played a most important part in the opening and settlement of the land across the mountains. It supplied not only shelter for the settler and his family but afforded a fortress in protection against the surprise attacks of the savages. Today the log home with its stands as a symbol of the hardships, plain living, self-reliance, adventurous spirit, unquestioned courage and determination of those men and women who founded and established the Commonwealth, breathing a spirit of democracy so precious to the hardy settlers.

Alexis De Tocqueville, the eminent French political writer who traveled extensively in America in the early years of the past century, has drawn a true and thoughtful picture of his impression. He says, "As soon as the pioneer arrives upon the spot which is to serve him for a retreat, he fells a few trees, clears the ground, and builds a log house. Nothing can offer a more crude aspect than these log dwellings. The traveler who approaches one of them at nightfall, sees the flicker of the hearth-flame through the chink of the walls; and at night, if the wind raises, he hears the roof of boughs shake to and fro in the midst of the great forest trees. Who would not suppose that this crude shelter is the asylum of rudeness and ignorance, yet no comparison can be found between the pioneer and the dwelling which shelters him.

"Everything about him is rough and unformed, but he himself is the result of the labor and experience of eighteen centuries. He wears the dress and speaks the language of the cities; he is acquainted with the past, curious of the future and ready for argument upon the present; he is, in short, a highly civilized being, who consents, for a time, to inhabit the backwoods, and who penetrates into the wilds of a new world with the Bible, an ax, and a file of newspapers.

This structure, when completed and furnished, will provide a Shrine to which those who boast pioneer ancestry may come to see for themselves how their courageous ancestors lived while laying the Foundation of our Commonwealth.

MODERN POLICE NEED COLLEGE EDUCATION

Complexities of modern crime, averred Deputy Detective Chief Walter A. Storms today, are driving police departments toward standardization of personnel requirements to include a college education.

"A college man," he declared yesterday, "has the ability to concentrate, to weigh evidence and facts, to keep his temper, and to use the brain to reason things out."

And those qualities, he said, were needed now.

The oak tree Glenn Morris Olympic decathlon champion, won in Berlin, has been placed in the Colorado State College greenhouse at Fort Collins and will be planted on the campus next spring.

Best Hookey Cure

To prevent widespread hookey the town fathers of St. Johnsbury, Vt., declared the first day of fishing a holiday for all seventh and eighth grade pupils. Seymour Tech made it a holiday for everyone.

Sonja Always A Good Skate

The Difference

"What's the difference," asked a traveler, "between an upper and a lower berth?" Here is the railway agent's reply: "A difference of 50c. The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower, you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher, the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of its being higher. When you occupy an upper berth you have to get up to go to bed, and get down to get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher it will be lower." But the poor traveler had fainted.

ONE DAY AT WESTERN FOR THANKSGIVING

President H. H. Cherry announced at chapel Tuesday that Western will return to school Friday, November 27, after observing Thanksgiving on November 26.

Dr. Cherry also announced that the Christmas holidays will start on Friday, December 18, and continue until January 4, 1937.

The change in Thanksgiving holidays was explained by President Cherry as an "economy measure."

Thankee friend.

"Buttercup" Person made the statement that ten people, including three girls, were willing to lay ten to one that they could lay Billy Ford across their knee and spank him. What is the matter, "Buttercup," has the green-eyed monster got you? Billy's late-dating on you with Dot Person didn't have anything to do with that statement, did it?

"Love, Oh Loveless Love!"

Let us pause a moment here in our hilarity and shed a tear for "Sleepy" Fowler. There was once a time when "Sleepy" dated every Saturday night. He now states that since "Buttercup" beat his time with Dot Person that no other girl can take her place. Hence, Fowler now haunts the pool halls on Saturday nights.

Evelyn Simmons escorted Milton Sorenson to this church social the other night. While Evelyn was taking care of her booth, Milton wandered off down-town and did not return until everyone was leaving. Even after such treatment, Sorenson still was capable of asking for a date for two weeks from that night. Evelyn coolly replied that she was sorry, etc. But she was dated up for that entire period.

Stunned, Milton ran to his roommate for technical advice and asked if he thought a box of candy might smooth things out.

Sorenson retaliates with this story on Richey. He says that Earl mailed a letter down to Mississippi and that its destination was Connie Thompson's mother. Now what in the world would Richey be writing her about?

And as for you, Lucyle Green, your sorority sisters are certainly missing you since you have begun sitting in the back of chapel hall with Wirt Jones.

Then there is the case of Ellaine Hodge, Dot Carr, "Pinky" Green, and Marvin Arnold. They decided that the kitchen of the "yellow stucco" would be the ideal place in which to do their courting. Since they took special pains to keep the landlady from knowing about their being there, the landlady locked the front door, and left her door open and bottled them up without realizing it. When she started to investigate the noise, audible in the kitchen, all four beat a hasty exit by way of the back door. It wasn't until the wee hours that the two girls dared return.

WESTERN TO HAVE MODERN PRESS BOX

Hilltoppers Also Considering Night Football for 1937

A feature of Saturday afternoon's game between Western and Howard was Dr. H. H. Cherry's announcement that Western stadium would be graced with a modern press box before the advent of football season next year.

A bit of bracing managed to hold the present antiquated press box together long enough to finish the present home season which closed with yesterday's game. A strong wind nearly blew the wooden structure away last week, and weakened it dangerously.

In addition to announcing the construction of the new press box, Dr. Cherry also announced that the field would be equipped for night playing, if the Board of Regents passed on the idea, and if local patronage desired night tilts.

According to tentative plans being formulated in the heads of some of promoters of the press box movement, the structure will be constructed on the west side of the field, and will probably be a two-story building of stone construction with private sections for the public address system workers and also for visiting scouts. An observation point would also be provided for special guests of the school.
